William Aberhart Draws Huge Crowd at Meeting Monday

William Aberhart, recognized as Alberta's foremost exponent of the Douglas System of Social Credit, drew a capacity house at Oyen theatre Monday night. His audience included many visitors from the most outlying parts of the district.

Mr. J. W. Robinson, J. P., occupied the chair and introduced the speakers. Mr. Manning, who accompanied Mr. Aberhart, briefly referred to the system and urged that a candidate be put in the field in every constituency in Alberta, pledged to see the system adopted in this province.

Mr. Aberhart who followed explained the system more fully, using a large chart which was set up on the stage, to emphasize his points. He told his audience that under the system of social credit, every man, woman and child, bona fide residents of the province, would be given a basic dividend,

Hon R. G. Reid is New Alberta Premier

When he tendered his resignation and that of his cabinet at Government House, Thursday, July 5, Premier John E. Brownlee named as his successor, Richard Gavin Reid, member for Vermilion.

The new premier and his cabinet were sworn in Tuesday at the Parliament Buildings by Hon. W. L. Walsh, lieutenant-governor.

The personnel of the new cabinet is as follows:

Premier and provincial secretary, Hon. R. G. Reid. *Minister of public works, Hon. J. J. MacLellan. *Provincial treasurer, Hon. J. R. Love. *Minister of lands and mines, and municipal affairs, Hon. Hugh W. Allen. Minister of health and telephones, Hon. George Hoadley. Minister of agriculture, Hon. F. S. Grisdale. Minister of education, Hon. Perrin E. Baker. Attorney-general, Hon. J. F. Lymburn, K. C. Minister without portfolio, Hon. Irene Parlbly. (*new ministers in the cabinet). Hon. O. L. McPherson former minister of public works, in not included in the new cabinet.

which would ensure them having at all times—shelter—clothing—food. This dividend would be issued to them monthly in the form of non-negotiable scrip, and be issued to them as long as they remained residents of the province. He placed the amount of this "dividend" at the equivalent of $25.00 per person, per month and with a touch of humor told his audience not to ask him "Where in the world would he get all this money from?" The basic dividend was not money but a "credit." He likened the system to the human heart. When the heart functioned properly, a constant and steady circulation was maintained in the body and we enjoyed good

Cappon Sports

The attendance at Cappon sports while not as large as usual lacked nothing in enthusiasm. The prizes, many of which were contributed by the business men of Oyen, were spiritedly contested for. The soft ball games provided fine entertainment, being keenly contested, the final game being a wow! Those who missed the women's nail driving contest missed the greatest event of the day. It was hits and Mrs. all the way through. The final was between Mrs. Thos. Thompson and Mrs. Walter Sampson, who both swung a wicked hammer. In the horse shoe contest, Mel Hoffman was so busy carrying home the Beaver Lumber Company's wood pile that Lawrence Helfer got away with the buckskin gloves presented by J. Lowe.

The dance at night was a struggle from start to finish. The Ball Trio dished out the notes and when they got tired struggling they would go

Conducts Mass Here

The Rev. Michael Kavanaugh, Minneapolis, Minn., a nephew of Mrs. Ellen Xoung, 621 S. Story street, conducted mass at St. Mary church Sunday morning. Father Kavanaugh, who was ordained a Dominican father in Washington, D.C. on June 14, was assisted by a nephew, Thomas Mullen of Wausau, who will be ordained next year.

A picnic in honor of Mrs. Young and Father Kavanaugh was held at Pierce Park after the mass. Seventy relatives and friends from Minneapolis, Antigo, Wausau, Freedom, Appleton, Kaukauna, and Oyen, Canada, were present. (Clipped from an Appleton, Wis., paper and sent to the News by Mrs. L. J. Wood, who is visiting in Kaukauna, Wis.).

(Continued from page 1.) health, but if anything went wrong with our circulation we became sick. Today in an age of production and plenty, we are unable to purchase the things we need or would like because we have no purchasing power, the present financial system has been broken down. Under the Douglas System, Mr. Aberhart told his audience, a properly regulated steady flow of credit would be established and the basic dividend by removing from the minds of all the bogey of actual want, would make a happy and contented people.

At the close of his address Mr. Aberhart was given a rousing ovation, and for more than an hour afterwards he was kept busy answering questions.
